

On the night of his bar mitzvah, a boy flies from Australia to Los Angeles, where it is a day earlier. Does he become “un-bar mitzvah”?

Why is it that some people’s nineteenth Hebrew birthday does not fall out on the same day as their civil birthday?

Which Shemoneh Esrei was last recited in the year 1994, and won’t be recited again until 2089?

Why are seventeen pesukim in the Torah sometimes not read at all during the course of the year?

Discover the answers to these questions and 150 more in this new book on fascinating zmanim and calendar calculations by

Rabbi Dovid Heber

