March for Israel Digital Toolkit

We're marching on the mall in Washington D.C. on Tuesday, November 14 to show our support for Israel, for freeing the hostages and to combat antisemitism. This march is our chance to have our voices heard.

At the core of every successful engagement campaign lies the ability to deliver consistent messaging that effectively reaches and mobilizes all audiences. To achieve this goal, the Jewish Federations of North America and the Conference of Presidents of Major Jewish Organizations have put together an easy-to-use Digital Toolkit to provide unified guidance on how to talk about the March for Israel using your social media platforms. Below you will find draft posts for Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, and Threads that you can tailor to your voice—as well as contact information for our communications experts, should you have any questions.

Learn more and stay involved by visiting: www.marchforisrael.org.

This toolkit will provide a framework to share information about the March for Israel with your network. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to our communications team at MarchforIsrael@skdknick.com.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Copy and paste the social media language onto your desired platform. You can adjust the copy so it matches your voice.
